VARIOUS DATES IN JULY

Festival of Archaeology

Saturday July 13th at 2pm: guided tour of our wonderful historic church. We have Plantagenet and Tudor royalty, we were a centre of puritanism in the 17th century, and the church building has been changed several times.

Monday July 15th at 2pm: New for this year! Churchyard tour. Find out why the east end is higher than the west end, some of the interesting people buried there, why it was considered 'insanitary', and even evidence of body snatchers! In Ashby!

There is a small charge for each event, but no need to book. Fliers can be found at the back of the church for more information. Bring your friends!

SUNDAY 21st JULY, 6:00PM

Hymns and Pimms

On Sunday 21st July at 6.00 p.m. we'll be holding another "Hymns and Pimms" event. Weather permitting it will be outside, either in the churchyard or in the Heritage Centre garden.

Hymns and Pimms is a bit like Songs of Praise, working on the basis that for many people hymns evoke strong and often fond memories of growing up, or a point in their lives. So, we hope it may appeal to people who might not normally come to church, and it would be an opportunity for you to invite friends who might not normally come to church, but like a good hymn!

We're asking half-a-dozen people from the Ashby Community to pick a favourite hymn, and to share a little bit about why it's special to them – and afterwards chat over a glass of PIMMs or a cuppa.

More details to follow, but if anyone has any questions please speak to Andy
